

Kristina Illston

Thank you for your financial support throughout my final year of completing a Bachelor of Agricultural Science with Honours degree. I am happy to inform you that your support allowed me to focus more time on my research project 'Lamb Wastage and its Association with Ewe Body Condition' and achieve First Class Honours. Without your financial support I would not have been able to accomplish this achievement.

This achievement has further led me to my current full time employment with Agtrac, a division of TruTest a global New Zealand founded business. TruTest creates, trains and supports people within the agricultural sector to further their business objectives and create profitability through the use of technology. I am thoroughly enjoying my current position within this business, along with looking forward to the many opportunities this company will provide me in the future.